

The Daily State Chronicle.

VOL. VIII.—NO. 15.

RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1890.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

THE NATIONAL CONGRESS

THE SENATE DISCUSSING THE JUDICIAL QUESTION.

A Remedy Needed for the Congestion of the Court—The House Troubled About the Quorum Business.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill to define and regulate the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States, the pending question being on Mr. Daniel's amendment offered on Saturday, extending the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court to all cases of felonies, and to all cases where the matter in dispute is the right to personal liberty, or the right to the custody of a child. Rejected.

After an argument by Mr. Everts against the amendment, Mr. Vest offered a substitute for the bill. It proposes that there shall be three divisions of the Supreme Court, to be composed of three justices; that the Chief Justice shall make assignments to these divisions; that all final decisions in either of these divisions shall be considered by the court in banc, and shall require the concurrence of five justices, and that the Chief Justice shall appoint the business of those divisions.

Mr. Everts said that the necessity for a remedy for the congestion of the Supreme Court was admitted on all sides, and that there were but two modes of providing for the difficulty. One was to proceed with the judicial establishment as it now stood, with such re-arrangements as might be provided for; and the other was to provide an intermediate Court of Appeals (which distributed through the different districts) might be able to dispose of certain heads of jurisdiction.

Mr. Ingalls offered the amendment, of which he had heretofore given notice, dividing the judicial districts of the United States into eleven circuits.

The amendment was rejected.

Mr. Gorman moved to designate Baltimore (instead of Richmond) as the place for holding court in the fourth circuit.

The vote was taken on Mr. Gorman's amendment but, as there was no quorum, it went over till to-morrow.

After a short executive session, the Senate, at 5:30 p. m. adjourned till to-morrow at noon.

House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—There were but two Democratic members present when the House was called to order this morning, O'Ferrall and Smith, of Arizona.

The call of the roll on the approval of the journal resulted—yeas 153, nays none. No quorum.

The call of the House was ordered, and 159 members answered to their names. Still no quorum, and a number of Republican absentees.

Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, moved an adjournment, but there was a number of Republican members who were in favor of remaining in session, it being understood that several Republican absentees would return this afternoon. He demanded the yeas and nays on his motion to adjourn.

The motion was carried—yeas 85; nays 70, and a Republican caucus was announced to be held immediately.

Mr. Moore, of New Haven, introduced a resolution instructing the committee on rules to report the following new rule:

Contempt of the House: When the call of the House discloses the presence of a quorum, any member absenting himself on the succeeding roll call for the purpose of breaking a quorum shall be arraigned at the bar of the House and fined in a sum not exceeding $500. The resolution was referred to the committee on rules.

REPUBLICANS CAUCUSSING.

They are Determined to Seat the Negro, Langston, from Virginia.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The ineffectual efforts of the managers of the House to secure a quorum of Republican members in order that the dead lock on the Langston-Venable contested election case could be broken, was the cause of another Republican caucus to-day. The caucus was called to order immediately after the adjournment of the House and lasted nearly two hours. This discussion on the subject of plans for securing the attendance of absent Republicans was general, and Mr. Moore, of New Hampshire, proposed that absentees should be fined $5 each. Severe condemnation of the absent Republicans was indulged in.

A count of absentees brought forth promises from a number of members that a sufficient number of the absentees to make a quorum would be present to-morrow. Some members urged the abandonment of the Langston case, but this action was opposed by most of the leaders, and it was determined, without taking a vote, that the case should not be dropped, and that adjournment should be postponed until Langston is seated. With this understanding the caucus adjourned, leaving it to the several State delegations to undertake the task of securing the attendance of absent colleagues.

South Carolina Protesting Against the Lard Bill.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 22.—Senator Blair to-day presented in the Senate the following telegram which was signed by about fifty names:

"The undersigned delegates to the State Republican convention of South Carolina, respectfully request you to protect the interests of the colored farmers and laborers of the South by using your influence to defeat the Conger Lard bill.

There is a whispering to the effect that the real cause for the failure of the Hickory bank is traceable to forgeries and false methods.—Salisbury Watchman.

MR. T. B. ELDRIDGE.

Mr. T. B. ELDRIDGE, editor of the Durham Globe, has retired from that paper, and is open for any offer for newspaper work. He has made the Globe an excellent newspaper and under his management he has given it a robustness of character, a sterling integrity, a sprightliness and an excellence which has made it one of our most reliable and interesting contemporaries. A gentleman of long experience, of untiring industry, of varied talent, and patriotic devotion to the State and Democracy, the CHRONICLE hopes that Mr. ELDRIDGE will soon be retained on the staff of one of North Carolina's best newspapers. North Carolina journalism cannot afford to lose one whose labors have contributed so largely to its advancement.

Mr. ELDRIDGE is succeeded by Mr. P. M. BRIGGS, a gentleman of talent and popularity—a native of the good town of Wilson. The CHRONICLE extends him a cordial welcome to the ranks of journalism.

FOUND DEAD IN THE ROAD.

The Border Exposition to be Held Oct. 22d and 24th Inclusive—Tillman, of South Carolina, and Others Will Speak.

[Special Cor. of STATE CHRONICLE.]

MAXTON, N. C., Sept. 20.—News has just been brought here of the sudden and sad death of Mr. B. L. McLaughlin, who lived about seven miles from Laurinburg. He was on his way home from Red Springs where he had been to carry a load of cotton. About half way from Red Springs to his home, he was found dead with the wheel of the wagon across his body. He leaves a wife and six small children.

Work is progressing rapidly on the buildings and fair grounds at this place. The buildings are to be finished by October 13th. The first fair of the Border Exposition of the Carolinas will be held here from October 22d to 24th. The fair will be opened by Gov. Dan'l. G. Fowle. Col. Walter L. Steele and Capt. Sid. B. Alexander will also speak. B. R. Tillman, of South Carolina, has been invited and is expected to come.

One of the main features of the fair will be a competitive drill for $100 by any military company from North Carolina or South Carolina. Wednesday will be the Alliance day. The prospects are that every department will be represented with a fine display. The racing will be good, and sports of all kinds for the amusement of the crowd will be engaged during the fair. Companies coming to drill for the prize will be entertained by the association. Companies desiring to enter will communicate at once to E. F. McKee, secretary.

H. B. H.

A REPUBLICAN WRANGLE.

And Split Among Cumberland Republicans—A Disgracefully Inharmonious Mob—From Which White Republicans Retire—Death Caused by Over-work in Taking the Census.

[Special to STATE CHRONICLE.]

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Sep. 20th.—A Convention of the Republicans of Cumberland county to select delegates to the Congressional convention of the third district to be held at Warsaw next Wednesday, met here today.

After a stormy session of about two hours, in which the friends of John S. Leary, col., struggled in opposition to the well matured plans laid by the supporters of George C. Scurlock, colored, to capture a list of delegates who would support the latter in the Congressional convention, about one half the delegates withdrew and held a little convention of their own, nominating a list of delegates. The result is that two sets of delegates will go from Cumberland—one in favor of Leary, the other in favor of Scurlock.

The convention was disgracefully inharmonious; so much so that the white radicals retired in disgust.

Capt. J. C. Blocker, of radical revenue fame, and a prominent radical politician of Cumberland county, died at Cedar Creek yesterday, and was buried today. He was killed by over-work in taking the census.

A Sad Double Tragedy.

[By United Press.]

MERRIVALE, Sept. 23.—During James Kedenham's absence from home, his little son was found in the yard playing with his father's Winchester. An older daughter attempted to take the weapon from him, and the gun was accidentally discharged with fatal effect. The ball entered the boy's mouth and passed through his brain, killing him instantly. The screaming and distracted girl hurried into the house for assistance, and on entering the door fell over the prostrate body of her sister. The ball, after its work of death in the yard, passed through the weather boarding of the house and killed a second member of the family. The ball took effect in the rear part of the girl's head and was found lodged in her mouth.

The Status of Strikes.

[By United Press.]

LONDON, Sept. 22.—John Burns, addressing a large labor meeting at Battersea yesterday, declared that out of two thousand strikes during 1889, only thirty had been unsuccessful. He regarded the outlook as highly encouraging for great improvement in the condition of working men.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & Co.

Dress trimmings. A grander display than ever. Cut beads, crochet gimps, cut steel, colored beads and silk combinations, etc., etc. In variety and price to every one.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & Co.

THE A. AND M. COLLEGE.

The Mistakes Made in Regard to It by Some Editors Answered by Professor Massey.

[Special Cor. State Chronicle.]

The following appeared in the Goldsboro Rural Home and Sentinel in its issue of September 17th:

School of Mechanics and Arts.

"We thought this school was gotten up as a sort of primary to the University at Chapel Hill, or in other words a farmers' school where boys who had received only the benefit of the home school for the two months they run in the year, could be received at any stage of advancement. And where those of very limited means could enter and work and study until he could get a business education or trade, or be far enough advanced to enter college. It seems from the competitive examination held in Goldsboro last month, that the standard of education is so high for the free students that each county is entitled to that only city boys can compete. Farmers' sons must be sent in at full rates of tuition. Both the free students were from Wayne county where they had the benefit of the graded school free of charge. More anon."

The above shows the misty notions which some editors have formed in regard to the purposes and aims of technical education in agriculture and mechanics. NO FARMER in the State, I venture, ever had any such idea.

Our courses of study are purely technical and lead to our own degrees, which are different from those of any other college in the State, and they have no relation to the classical course at the University, or of other colleges. A man who simply wants to prepare for the University can do so better elsewhere than here. Our standard for admission is so low that any intelligent young man of 15 or over, who has had a year's study, ought to be able to enter. It is evident that a man who cannot do the work of our lowest class would only be a drag and accomplish little for himself.

To show how unfair the statements of the Goldsboro paper are, I would state that our register shows that in our sophomore class, out of 34 FREE students 20 of them are farmers' sons, and in our freshman class, so far, out of 16 FREE students, 14 are sons of farmers, and out of our entire list of students, nearly 80 per cent are farmers' sons. Of those found unprepared to enter, as many came from cities and towns as from the farms.

W. F. MASSEY.

THE REPUBLICANS

Open Their Campaign Wednesday Night in Grand Style.

(Marion Free Lance.)

The Republicans open their campaign here Wednesday night in quite an interesting style, and all—except about one—who attended enjoyed it hugely.

The way it cleared, so we are informed by an eye witness, is about this way: One of the most popular Republicans—a man who is a thorough gentleman and a Republican by birth and from principle, and one who would not sell his principle and manhood—in this county and the young Republican convert, Tommie Greenlee, got into an argument, in which he told Tommie that he (Tom Greenlee) and G. W. Crawford, who is now Revenue collector, had sold out for the money there was in the position [Greenlee and Crawford were formerly Democrats but are now Republicans] and that Mr. W. F. Craig and himself were Republicans from principle. [These two last named have been Republicans all their lives.]

Tommie said that he was as solid a Republican as was this long-long Republican. The life-long Republican informed Tommie that he lied, whereupon Tommie called him a liar. Upon being called such a refined and elegant name he very promptly pasted Tommie in the eye and went for him in grand style. As Simon Jordan (col.) would say he painted Tommie's eye a delicate "Carmillion blue."

Carthage Democratic Club.

(Special to STATE CHRONICLE.)

CARTHAGE, N. C., Sept. 20.—We formed a Democratic club last night with J. C. Black, President; Chas. A. McNeill, Vice-President; H. A. Foote, Jr., Secretary; L. P. Tyson, Treasurer. Nat. Alston, John L. Currie, H. A. Foote, Jr., and Chas. A. McNeill were elected delegates to the State Convention of Democratic clubs. A resolution endorsing the whole county ticket, and pledging ourselves to support it, was adopted without a dissenting voice.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Ewart is reported as saying that Thos. N. Cooper would succeed Eaves as Internal Revenue Collector.

The Republicans of the Thirty Sixth Senatorial District have nominated M. A. Harshaw, of Caldwell and — Ray, of Yancey. Pritchard was endorsed in place of Eaves.

The Radical Convention in the Seventh District decided to make no nomination. This is but a feint to fool the people. P. C. Thomas is their nominee and will receive their votes.

Hon. H. G. Ewart, though a lawyer, is posing as an Allianceman in good standing and, says the Swain County Herald, in commenting upon this inconsistency a local wit of an adjoining county said: "That Mr. Ewart had burglariously broken into the Farmers' Alliance with the felonious intent of stealing a good [political] character."

The Gigantic Phosphate Corporation.

[By United Press.]

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Mr. K. Sands, the founder of the phosphate corporation, together with Mr. Davis, the solicitor, sailed for Canada on Thursday last. The experts and one of the directors are already on the ground and will at once thoroughly investigate the phosphate properties and the phosphate industry in general in Canada, Florida and South Carolina.

AN AWFUL DISASTER.

A SCENE OF HORROR ON THE PHILADELPHIA & READING ROAD.

More Than Twenty People Killed and Seventy Wounded—Hissing Steam—Shrieks of Panic Stricken Passengers—Groans of Wounded and Dying People—All Add Horror to a Scene of Death and Desolation.

[By United Press.]

READING, Pa., Sept. 22.—The terrible accident Friday night on the Reading railroad grows in fatality as the wreck is cleared away. Twenty dead bodies have been removed from the wreck, and others are known to be in it. The injured foot up nearly seventy, some of whom may die.

A passenger, John Ney, of Philadelphia, crawled out of the awful wreck uninjured, and this afternoon he gave the following account of what he saw:

Hissing steam from the engine, groans of the injured, and shrieks of the Panic-stricken Passengers made up an awful sight. Those of the passengers who escaped unhurt gazed in horror upon the scene. They saw four of the cars splintered into thousands of pieces. It is safe to say that the cars could not have been more completely smashed to pieces. The engine's smoke stack was just out of water, and tops of the Pullman and smoker were just visible. The Terrific Crash of the Wreck summoned hundreds of the residents of that section, who hurried to the scene as the shades of night were quickly gathering upon that never-to-be forgotten scene of death and desolation.

Then the work of rescue. Train hands and some of the passengers in getting out of the cars jumped into the water and swam to the shore. It was a Desperate Struggle for Life. Train men then lit their lamps and soon the ghastly scene was illumined by these pale lights which rendered slight assistance to noble hearts and willing hands. One by one the slightly injured were taken and assisted out of the car that stood end up on the bank. Many limped to the track above, which was flanked on the one side by the standing coal train. Others were carried up. Then the rescuing party made their way further down to the wrecked and submerged cars and the sights they saw were horrifying in the extreme.

Injured passengers were

Piled One on Top of the Other amid the splintered planks, iron work, glass, car wheels, gas cylinders, lamps, packages, bundles of clothing, baskets, hats and a great variety of other materials smashed to pieces.

The body of George Karecher, the Philadelphia and Reading company's solicitor was taken out at 6:30 a. m. He was drowned in five feet of water in the Pullman car. Harry Logan, aged 35, conductor of the express train, was found under the Pullman car in the water. His hands were on his face as though he had anticipated danger. He leaves a widow and one child in Pottsville.

Joseph Becker, chief Burgess of Mahony City was found under the smoker crushed to death.

The body of John Osborne, aged thirty, of Philadelphia, who was on his way to Pottsville to visit his wife, was next found, drowned in the Pullman car. The body of Frank Hassman, of Mahony City, taken out at midnight, presented a sickening sight, his chest and face crushed in.

Harry Greenwald, the mail agent, leaves a widow and two small children in Pottsville.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fredericks, of Pottsville, were found side by side. They were drowned in the Pullman car.

Joseph Bausman, of Philadelphia, a fireman on the Philadelphia and Reading road, was found dead under the smoker.

N. G. Vanderslice, of Phoenixville, found dead under the smoker; John Shindle, of Philadelphia, engineer on the Philadelphia & Reading road found dead under the smoke; Michael Summers, of Mahony City, member of the Humane Fire company, was found in the water. The engineer and fireman are still under the engine.

All those more seriously injured were taken to the Reading hospital, and others were transferred to their homes. Seventeen of the dead were brought to Reading at noon, prepared for burial, and then sent to their destination.

Register to-day.

Something which Catches the Eyes of Men.

That's the way! Men talk right much about the penchant of woman for dress, but just put something in the way of dress in their own line before them, and see what great attention they will give it.

Walters, the tailor, knows something about men folks, and he is capturing their attention and admiration by an exceedingly handsome and unique feature which he has placed in his windows.

It is most too much of an undertaking to try to describe exactly what is being talked about now. The objects must be seen to be appreciated, and in fact, they ought to be seen. They are worthy of inspection.

There is no special name for them, but they represent a very handsomely made Prince Albert—elegant material and elegant shape, and while there is no real coat it looks so much like it that it is readily taken for a tailor made garment which has been neatly pressed out. There is also the representation of a handsome sack coat. Both show the neat and pleasing style in which clothing is made up by the Walters' system of cutting, and nothing can come nearer perfection in the way of an elegant fit than a suit cut according to this system. These are the first signs of this kind ever shown in the city, and it is characteristic of Walters to have them first.

GREENSBORO.

A Mistake About the Steel and Iron Company—The Republican Ticket of Guilford—Has He Struck "He?"

[Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.]

GREENSBORO, N. C., Sept. 22.—Quite recently reports have gone out in the newspapers that the Steel and Iron Company here has reduced its capital stock, and will not carry out its original plans. These reports have done some harm, and really they are not true. It was said that the capital stock of the company had been reduced from $1,000,000 to $350,000; that the Ore Hill Mining property had depreciated $150,000.

The facts as given to me by Mr. C. D. Benbow, the Secretary of the company, are these:

First, it was found that the company could accomplish its immediate objects with less money than at first supposed; hence it limited its stock issue for the present to $600,000—50 to 60¢ per cent, of which may be called for to carry on the work of their furnaces.

Second, a new deal was made with the owners of the Ore Hill property, by which they were enabled to REDUCE THE PRICE TO THE COMPANY, thereby saving in cash $150,000.

Instead of the company losing faith in the enterprise, its faith is very much strengthened, and its stock is now worth really more than it ever was.

They need $300,000 for immediate use in building furnaces, &c., and have no doubt but that this amount will be raised at once by the sale of stock.

The North Carolina Steel and Iron company cannot fail with such men as Julius A. Gray, Julian S. Carr, A. B. Andrews and the Odeles to manage it. They have the ability and the money to push it to success.

Mr. Phoenix is perfecting arrangements for testing his oil prospects. Experts say that many rich wells have followed much less promising finds than this. Besides this, I am informed that another well in this vicinity gives strong indications of oil. The owner's name is not given.

The number of land offices open here indicates that new life, new enterprise, and strong faith in the city's future, are all shared by most of its citizens.

The Republicans named their county ticket Saturday. They re-nominated the old county officers, W. P. Bynum was nominated for the Senate, and Geo. W. Clopp and — Chilcutt for the House.

Josh Murrow was chairman of the convention and seemed to have things pretty much his own way. It was evidently a cut and dried affair, and except a little rumpus over the Senatorial nomination, it was harmonious inside.

Col. Ab. Holton was put in nomination for the Senate, but withdrew after the vote was cast and he saw himself beaten. They just smashed the fiery little Col. as flat as a pancake.

The nigger was mighty scarce, and they say it looks like they will never be given a showing by the Radicals and they shall vote for whom they please.

Everything is hopeful for the Democrats, and they are well satisfied with the ticket they have to beat. Guilford will be redeemed.

T. M. R.

Two Sluggers Arrested.

(By Cable to STATE CHRONICLE.)

LONDON, Sept. 22.—McAuliffe and Slavin, prize fighters, were arrested here to-day on a charge that they were about to violate the peace. McAuliffe was arrested at his lodgings in this city. Slavin was arrested while entering a cab after his arrival at the railway station here from his training quarters at Dover. They were arraigned in court this afternoon on the charge of conspiring to commit a breach of the peace and both were bound over to keep the peace.

STATE CONVENTION OF CLUBS.

The Jefferson Club Elects Five Delegates.

The following list contains the names of the delegates and alternates elected to represent the Jefferson Democratic Club in the State Convention of Clubs on the 24th inst:

Delegates—Gov. D. G. Fowle, Col. Thomas S. Kenan, A. D. ("Buck") Jones, Ben. R. Laoy, G. E. Leach.

Alternates—Dr. James McKee, Capt. B. P. Williamson, M. H. Haughton, L. S. Ellison, Alex. Stronach.

The Young Men's Democratic Club will elect delegates Tuesday night.

Died.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, one of Asheville's wealthiest and oldest citizens, died Saturday, aged 83 years. He was born in Down, Ireland, and came to this country with his father when he was eleven years old. He was for twelve years clerk of the court of Haywood county. He was the father of the Hon. Thos. D. Johnston, Capt. R. B. Johnston, Mrs. Wm. Cooke, Mrs. W. T. Weaver and Miss Mattie Johnston, all living in Asheville. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Rates to Land Sale, Oxford, N. C.

The Richmond & Danville Railroad Company will sell parties attending the land sale at Oxford, N. C., tickets to that point and return at following rates from points named. Tickets on sale Oct. 9th and 10th, good returning until and including Oct. 13th, 1890:

From Greensboro, $1 55; Durham, $1.90; Raleigh, $3.15; Selma, $4.55; Henderson, 70.

Rates from intermediate points in same proportion.

The postmistress at Halifax is said to be in arrears $700 with the postoffice money. She is a colored woman, wife of E. H. Davis, one of the leading negro politicians of Halifax county.—Exchange.

MR. DANCY'S SUCCESS.

The Advantages to Manufacturers of Cotton Seed Oil Fertilizer Will be Immeasurable.

Mr. F. B. Dancy has returned from the annual meeting of the association of official agricultural chemists, which met in Washington. He went to urge his objections to two or three of their methods of determining "available phosphoric acid" in fertilizers containing cotton seed meal, as most of our Southern fertilizers do. He had already written a pamphlet on that subject which he had submitted to almost all the members before the meeting. The North Carolina Experiment Station had already abandoned the methods which he attacked.

At each meeting of this association there is a reporter, who lays before the body a resume of the bibliography on phosphoric acid determinations for the past twelve months, gives the results of comparative tests by different chemists all over country, and then makes recommendations for the next year. Mr. Dancy had sent this reporter a copy of his pamphlet, and when he made his report he recommended that, when cotton seed meal goods were to be analyzed only the 1st of their methods should be used and the last two (the two Mr. Dancy had shown to be inadequate) be condemned as far as this class of fertilizers went. Mr. Dancy followed the reporter, formally submitting his paper to the convention and adding a few remarks urging his point. When it went to a vote the convention VOTED UNANIMOUSLY to condemn methods 2 and 3 where fertilizers containing cotton seed meal were to be analyzed and to use one method, No. 1. This one Mr. Dancy had shown to be entirely adequate and the only adequate one. The advantage to cotton seed fertilizer manufacturers all over the South is immense.

Every Democratic voter ought to have his name on the registration books without delay.

WAKE COUNTY COURT.

Sixty Nine Cases on the Docket—The Business Disposed of Yesterday.

Wake county Criminal court convened yesterday, His Honor Judge E. T. Boykin presiding.

The criminal docket showed sixty nine cases.

The grand jury is composed of the following members:

N. B. Burns, foreman, R. B. Todd, P. P. Griffin, W. H. Watson, A. Jordan, L. S. Yates, C. H. Gooch, J. M. Roberts, Jas. A. Hood, J. R. Mangum, J. J. Burt, S. S. Hobby, Robt. Fuquay, D. E. Lynn, D. R. Thompson, J. S. Ferrell, G. D. Wiggins, H. H. Knight.

Judge Boykin delivered a plain, pointed charge to the grand jury.

The following business was disposed of: State vs. Burwell Perry, bigamy, nol pros.

State vs. Wm. Kelley, nol pros.

State vs. Wilborn Everitt, nol pros.

State vs. Darney Wilborn, nol pros.

State vs. Wm. Faucett, nol pros.

State vs. Henry Williams, burglary, nol pros.

State vs. Wm. Banks, assault with deadly weapon, nol pros.

State vs. Aldridge and others, trapping and vagrancy; defendants plead guilty; judgment suspended.

State vs. W. D. Privett, burglary; nol pros.

State vs. Josiah Stancill, larceny; not guilty.

State vs. Napoleon Gibbs; trespass on property, defendant adjudged insane on an issue submitted; ordered to insane asylum.

State vs. Robert Royster, larceny; plead guilty; one year at hard labor on the public roads.

State vs. Wilborn Page, larceny; called and failed; judgment nisi.

State vs. Alex. Dewar, larceny; called and failed; nisi.

The grand jury came into court and presented several true bills.